Origin: Ciacomo's pedigree is quite unique. He is a direct descendant of Cor de la Bryère, who put his stamp on the Holstein performance breeding like no other. In addition to his qualities as a sire of performance horses, Cor de la Bryère founded numerous sire-dynasties (e.g. Caletto I + II, Calypso I + II, Corrado I).

Ciacomo's dam descends from Lavall I (Landgraf/Sacramento Song xx), himself internationally successful and currently highly sought after in Holstein pedigrees as a dam's sire. Ronald (a son of Ramiro) and Farnese – known for passing on powerful movements – completes the performance pedigree

Performance Record: Ciacomo is a long-legged stallion of extremely modern type. He has supple paces with a canter at its best. He finished his performance test in group 1 with marks of 9,0 and better under saddle, for loose jumping (jumping index 135,1) and gained maximum scores for his temperament. He qualified for the National Young Horse Championships as a 5 and 6-year-old. By now he has been victorious up to 1.50m level and has achieved high placings in international competitions.

Ciacomo has an inspiring appearance with a sleek thoroughbred look, a kind nature and impressive athletic performance.

Breeding/Progeny Record: His offspring in Holstein are equipped with an elegant type and powerful movements, already including Regional-, Verband- and State Premium mares.

Ciacomo is a remarkable stallion, who has everything the modern sport horse breeder demands.
