Origin/Performance Record: Coromino was born in the Oldenburg region of Germany in 1997. He was licensed in 1999 & approved in 2000 at the 100 day Stallion Performance
Testing in Neustadt/Dosse, Germany. Coromino completed his stallion testing with above average scores, finishing in the top half of the group, 24th out of the 49 stallions tested. In the Dressage and Jumping portions of the test he received almost identical scores, showing talent for both disciplines. He received one 10.0 and three 9's; 10.0 for "Willingness to Perform", and 9's for "Ability to Work", "Temperament", and "Character". Coromino is a beautiful horse both inside & out. Representative of his Holsteiner foundation, Coromino conforms to the traditional ideal of the breed. He has classic good looks with modern refinement, good bone, a beautiful arching neck and amazing athleticism. He is extremely easygoing, cooperative and well mannered; a true gentleman. Impeccable temperament & trainability. Coromino is multi-talented for Dressage, Hunters & Jumpers. He has well balanced, elastic movement with three impressive, large strided, correct gaits suitable for any discipline.

Won the 5 year old Jumper Classic at the Oaks Beach Cities show & placed third in 5 year old Jumper Classic at Oaks Spring Show with rider Damian Gardiner. Top placings at Raleigh Jumper Show (Nov 2005) with rider Jamey Prettyman. Multiple top placings (all above 5th place in classes of 100+) in Ocala HITS Feb 2006 with rider Jamey Prettyman. Level 6 Jumper. At present time Coromino is training in Dressage with rider/trainer Jennifer Hoffman. See our website "News" page for show dates and training updates.

Breeding/Progeny Record: Coromino foals are both athletic & refined, and like their sire, wonderful movers with three good, pure gaits and flawless character. His foals show amazing talent for and a love of jumping. Coromino foals have temperaments suitable for the amateur rider with plenty of talent/ability for the professional. Coromino is a versatile sire as he produces both jumping and dressage type foals. Excellent Hunter sire. Coromino reliably passes on his wonderful conformation, lovely neck & neck set, powerful legs, and active hindquarter. His offspring are classically beautiful and uniform in their excellent exterior and interior qualities on a wide range of mare types. Coromino tends to add height with average offspring maturing about 16.3-17hh. Wonderful sire to cross with hotter type mares. Foals reliably inherit Coromino's wonderful temperament. Crosses well with both TB mares and heavy WB mares alike.

100% of first foal crop were given Premium grading in Germany plus one Elite Auction foal. Because of his incredible first crop, the stallion commission in Germany nominated him for the Main Premium Stallion Award. Coromino has produced several stallion prospects, Premium Mares, inspection site champions, and numerous GOV Premium award foals. Many Premiums out of TB mares. USDF & USEF national ranked foals. Undersaddle offspring show high trainability and rideability, natural jumping aptitude/ability and their sire's dressage quality gaits. Coromino offspring successfully compete in Hunters, Jumpers, Dressage and Eventing. See website for more information.
