Origin: Lacado is by Lacapo, himself considered one of the best, least known, Landgraf sons, who produced the highly successful Keur Dutch Stallion Flemmingh. Fein Cera, who competed successfully under Peter Wylde for the 2004 Athens Olympics US, in Jerez, also carries the blood of Lacapo. Lingham, who competed successfully at numerous International Championships and World Cup. Krack C, International Grand Prix Dressage under Anky Van Grunsven, and many internationally successful performance horses, including Melvin, Grand Prix Dressage, and Graziana, Stadium Jumping come out of this blood. Lacado's influx of Capitano blood, who produced the famous Capitol- Cassini also comes from Lacapo's pedigree. Including even the blood of Cottage Son xx. From the Dam side, Lacado brings Cor De La Bryere, Ramiro, Rigoletto and Ramzes whos progeny and successes are too numerous to mention.

Performance Record: Trained to Grand Prix at the Stables of Olympic Gold and Silver Medalist, Isabell Werth, Lacado has winnings at Grand Prix Dressage. Grand Prix Santa Barbara, 2x 1st, under Larisa Mantor, 2007. FEI 2x placing under Ingo Menze, 2004, while in Aachen, Germany. 5x 1st, 2x 2nd, Prix St George and Intermediare I, under Jochen Hippenstiel, Los Angeles. In Jumping, as a youngster, he placed 5th in Championships in Holland and Denmark. Lacado is published in several books, including the Book of Horses and Horsecare, Judith Draper.

Breeding/Progeny Record: 2007 Premium Oldenburg Filly, also became the cover girl of the Jan 2008 Practical Horseman magazine. 2004 Premium Gold Colt, score 8.1, top 5, RHPSI. And numerous premium colts and fillies. Lacado passes on his kind, inquisitive, self confident nature. Elasticity, well set under/angled hindquarters, long legs, beautiful heads, long lines and uphill tendencies.
